Our Administration and Faculty Urge Students Toward Higher Goals

With such cooperation as shown by Mr. Sodorff, our principal, and Mr. Ruen, our school board president, great history is sure to be recorded.

At times 'tis true the path looked dim,
And we with just amaze
Were doubtful if this year would mark
The end of our school days.

'Tis here our teachers showed their skill
For with each urge and prod
They guided us along the path
Which led to wonders broad.

They Make Our Year One to Be Remembered with Pride

JACK JONES
The administrator of our large school district needs to be a versatile man.

DICK SODORFF

Coach McDonnell takes a breather.

Mrs. Pat Strohmaier is flanked by the members of her party-Patty Parkins, Alice Carter, Wanda Lockwood, Sadie Thompson, Judi Schedler, Susie Beebe, Marilyn Brown, and JoAnn Derr.

All work and no primping makes Karen Fredstrom, Kay Kiebert, JoAnn Sedar, and Carla Peterson dull girls! They do work, however, assisting Mrs. Sodorff, Dean of Girls.

Our Leaders

feel there's nothing like

the power of a Woman

During our school years, our inspired leaders break trails for others to follow.

Throughout the year our class was led
By those we chose to be,
The ones to guide us toward our goals,
And youthful victories.

While passing years shall cause their names
From memory to fade,
Still stands the record of their deed,
Upon this printed page.

Student Body Officers Soar to Success

The knights of old rode chargers bold to win their maidens fair, but modern automation put our leaders in the air.

Seniors, Juniors, Sophomores All Extol Their Skills

Students blaze various trails as they climb upward and onward to reach their goals.

So great amount of time was spent
Within our classrooms walled,
That finally at the close of school
We truly were appalled.

We felt at last that we were through;
Our learning now was done,
But we awoke to realize
There's learning too through fun.

Our Years at SHS

Mrs. Parker and Mr. Haight, advisers

On August 31, 1960, a swarm of uncertain sophomores entered the portals of Sandpoint Senior High. Hello Week was their first endeavor, and the class elected Sharon Palmer and John Pucci as their friendliest couple. Chosen to lead the class throughout the year were Marvin Eng, president; Diana Hawkins, vice-president; and Pam Anderson, secretary-treasurer.

As the days turned into weeks, the sophomores found no time for shyness in the whirl of activity in which they became involved. They became active members in various clubs, athletics, and student body affairs. With all of this activity came responsibility, and the sophomores marveled at the fact that SHS had been able to get along without them during the previous years. Sophomore candidate, Pam Walker, was successful in being elected Leohono Queen during the annual Leohono Carnival. Marvin Eng and Diana Hawkins were chosen Girls' League King and Queen candidates from the class. Eileen Hedlund was chosen to go on the United Nations Youth Pilgrimage. With the help of their advisers, Mrs. Brunsell and Mr. McDonnell, the sophomores made it through their first year of high school.

A year older and a bit wiser, they entered the halls of SHS as juniors with abounding confidence. Again Sharon Palmer and John Pucci were chosen as friendliest couple from the class. Greg Walker was elected vice-president of the student body and presided over the ID Board during the year. Sadie Thompson was chosen Leohono Queen; this added a second-year victory to the accomplishments of the class. Jerry Buck and Les Waggoner were chosen Girls' League King and Queen candidates.

As juniors they were compelled to take a multitude of tests - ITED, PSAT, National Math, National Merit - which they found stimulating and challenging. The Christmas card sales were entered into with great enthusiasm, as were the ordering of the class rings. The juniors were guided through the year by Mel Burnett, president; John Pucci, vice-president; and Dee Dee Blumhagen, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Haight and Mr. Croy were class advisers.

The beginning of another year brought 143 seniors closer to graduation. With a sudden jolt, they realized that the world awaited them as adults, not as children. Chosen to lead them through their final year in school were Darrel Mooney, president; Pat Nesbitt, vice-president; and Sadie Thompson, secretary-treasurer. Another group of senior students were involved in student government. Val Millard, Mel Burnett, and Sharon Palmer presided over the school affairs as ASB president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer.

Showing their friendliness for the third year, Sharon and John were again selected the friendliest couple during Hello Week festivities. Homecoming was highlighted by the crowning of Sadie Thompson, Homecoming Queen, with Patty Parkins and Carla Peterson, princesses. The class attained another third-year victory by electing their candidate, Judi Schedler, to be Leohono Queen.

Darrel Mooney and Mary Boling were crowned King and Queen of the Senior Ball, "Al Di La," with Sharon Palmer and John Pucci, Diane Converse and Dale Kitt, attendants. The Senior Play "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis" was a humorous sketch about teenagers.

Richard Olson won the Hunt Trophy and Dick Parsons received the Jerry Kramer Award at the annual football banquet.

Before leaving SHS for the final time, the Senior Class of 1963 expresses its gratitude to advisers, Mrs. Parker and Mr. Haight, for their help during that last, wonderful high school year - the senior year.

Fine Organization Is Developed Through Cooperation

The organization and cooperation of our students are recorded not only in the classroom but also in other groups and in service to the school and to individuals.

We left our mark upon the clubs
To which we pledged our time
With hopes that maybe with our help
True harmony would chime.

'Twas fun to work and slave and toil
To down our rivalry,
But after competition closed
We worked in unity.

Activities develop leadership qualities in many students

Active classmates display skill while maneuvering the paddle wheel on Lake Oreille.

The class of nineteen sixty-three
Has walked these halls with pride;
We trust our stature has increased
With every measured stride.

And now our yearbook lends some space
For school activities,
Which free the democratic way
For youthful energies.

Our names are written on the scrolls
Where service found some need,
And may this training serve us well
When we must take the lead.

The date was set; the ball drew near - -
Excitement rose within,
And final plans were being made
Above the roaring din.

The girls had problems - - oh,
so large - -
With heels, hair, and hoop.
Yet all arrived, and beauty blest
Our king and queenly group.

Though manly problems proved to be
Small in comparison,
Corsages, ties, and shining shoes-
Such things had to be done!

But all arrived to dance throughout
That lovely evening bright,
And always will our hearts relive
That one eventful night.

Senior royalty (top) at the Ball are Dale Kitt and Diana Converse, attendants; Queen Mary Boling and King Darrel Mooney, and Sharon Palmer and John Pucci, attendants.

Bulldogs finish Second

The Sandpoint Bulldogs, under the leadership of new coach, Francis McDonnell, finished the 1962 season second in the Panhandle League and third in the Inland Empire League. Opening the season at home, the fired-up Bulldogs crushed the Wallace Miners 47-6 and avenged last year's loss. For the second game of the season, the team traveled to Moscow for a contest with the Bears. The final score was Bears 7 and Sandpoint 0. On September 14 the Bulldogs were again on the road for a game at Pullman, Washington. They came out on the short end of the score of 20-7.

After resting for an open date, the Bulldogs came back to Memorial Field to host the Bonners Ferry Badgers. It was Dad's Night, and they watched their sons stun the Badgers 20-0. The next week the Bulldogs dropped another close hard-fought game 12-6 to the Clarkston Bantams. The game following seemed, to most people, to be the most important. It was with the Coeur d'Alene Vikings under Sandpoint's former coach, Cotton Barlow. The Vikings suffered a 26-6 defeat. The Bulldogs traveled to the Lewiston Bengal's home field and lost an exciting contest 26-13 as the Bengals scored two touchdowns in the last two minutes.

On October 19 the Bulldogs played host to the unbeaten Kellogg Wildcats. As both teams had been unbeaten in the Panhandle League, this was to be the championship game. When the contest ended, the score was Kellogg 27 and Sandpoint 13. The last game of the season was at Central Valley. The Bulldogs lost this one 33-0 to the Spokane school.

Bob Coons is spilled after long gain in Moscow game. Other Sandpoint players are 54 Gary Mundy and 70 Greg Walker.

Bergstrom stops Kellogg man as Pucci and Verwolf move up to assist. Other players are 64 Royce McIntosh and 53 Mike Bartelson.

The Miller brothers force Central Valley to fumble. Other players are 75 Dick Parsons, 51 Dave Dillon, and 61 Paul Freudenthal.

Referee scoots out of the way as Coons barrels around the end for a long gain against Clarkston.

Varsity

The '62-'63 Bulldogs, under the leadership of Head Coach Pat Kaufman, started the season playing several non-league foes. After the team had lost four of six games to Spokane schools, they opened the Panhandle League, losing to Kellogg on January 4. From there, the Bulldogs won the next nine of ten games. The league season ended with a loss to Coeur d' Alene, and the Bulldogs finished second with a league record of five wins and three losses and an overall record of twelve and eight. FRONT: Dennis Luckey and Dave Eddett, managers. STANDING: Jim Bloxom, Dan Lewis, Jay Miller, Mel Burnett, Win West, Coach Kaufman, Dave Dillon, Dick Curtis, Sterling Collins, Mike Parkins, Art Chubb.
